

Mission Rabies respects the privacy of its customers and visitors. If you wish to be removed from our database, or have any questions about the operation of our website, please email enquiries@missionrabies.com or use the contact form.

Our website collects names, email addresses, and other personal information from customers and visitors only when submitted via our online contact form(s). This data is used solely by Mission Rabies and is not shared, traded, or sold to third parties.

Our website does collect non-personal data through the use of a "cookie" (a small file stored by your browser on your hard drive) if you are a member; If you do not log in to the member's area then no cookie will be stored.

Our web-server does record IP addresses from all visitors to our site. An IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer when you use the Internet. We use IP addresses to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer our site, to analyse trends, to track user movement, and to gather broad demographic information—all for the purpose of continually improving our website and delivering personalised, custom content. IP addresses are not linked to personally identifiable information, and their collection is standard procedure in most web-server environments.

Our website contains links to other websites. Please note that when you click on one of these links, you are entering another website, for which Mission Rabies is not responsible.

By using www.missionrabies.com, you signify your agreement to our privacy policy as stated above. Note that this policy may be revised periodically without notice. Please re-read this policy prior to submitting any personal information if you have concerns about how your information is being collected and used.
